FOREWORD

As another year ends at Cradock, we can glance back and see the events which shaped our lives. The proms, the games, the clubs, the plays, the assemblies, the school projects—all united us into a single student body, proud of our school. As the years pass, our minds shall retain only vague images of the people and circumstances which have influenced us through this year. In an attempt to preserve a vivid record of all that occured, we of the 1965 ADMIRAL staff present to you our "Scrapbook of Memories" to serve as a visual account of all that we love and cherish about our school, Cradock High.

To The Memories

To the friends, we'll not forget them
In the years that lie ahead
To Cradock High School where we met them
And the wonderful times we had:

The football games, the dances, the serious romances,
The parties when we didn't get home til dawn—
Oh, we'll miss them when we're gone.

So, a toast to the past, a toast to the future,
And let there be no sorrow,
For remember, when the sun goes down,
It returns with a bright tomorrow.

Adapted from "To The Memories" of Northwestern University.

To One We Shall Always Remember With Thanks . . .

REGINALD BYRD
our friend and advisor

Active as assistant principal and as our coach of golf, he has remained, above all, the friend, guide, and counselor of the many hundreds of students who have come in contact with him . . . in their work, activities, and their all important character development.

After graduating from East Carolina with a B.S. in Physical Education and Science, Mr. Byrd served two years in the Army. He then embarked on his teaching career. He taught at Alexander Park Jr. High, then Cradock Jr. High, and finally, Cradock High School. In 1960 he received his M.A. in Education and took his present position as assistant principal.

In all his activities he has shown an understanding of youth and has provided a stimulas for youth to do its best in all its various endeavors. He accomplishes these things with concern, sincerity, kindness, and modesty.

For such an influence we are grateful. For such a guide we count ourselves fortunate. Of such a man we are proud.

For His Varied Services

A frequent scene at Crodock is thot of Mr. Byrd entering the Principal's office. Being Mr. Booker's right hand man colls far numeraus canferences on school policy.

As Assistant Principal and disciplinorion, Mr. Byrd is often seen checking his own troffic cammittee and handling ony vialatars af the troffic system.

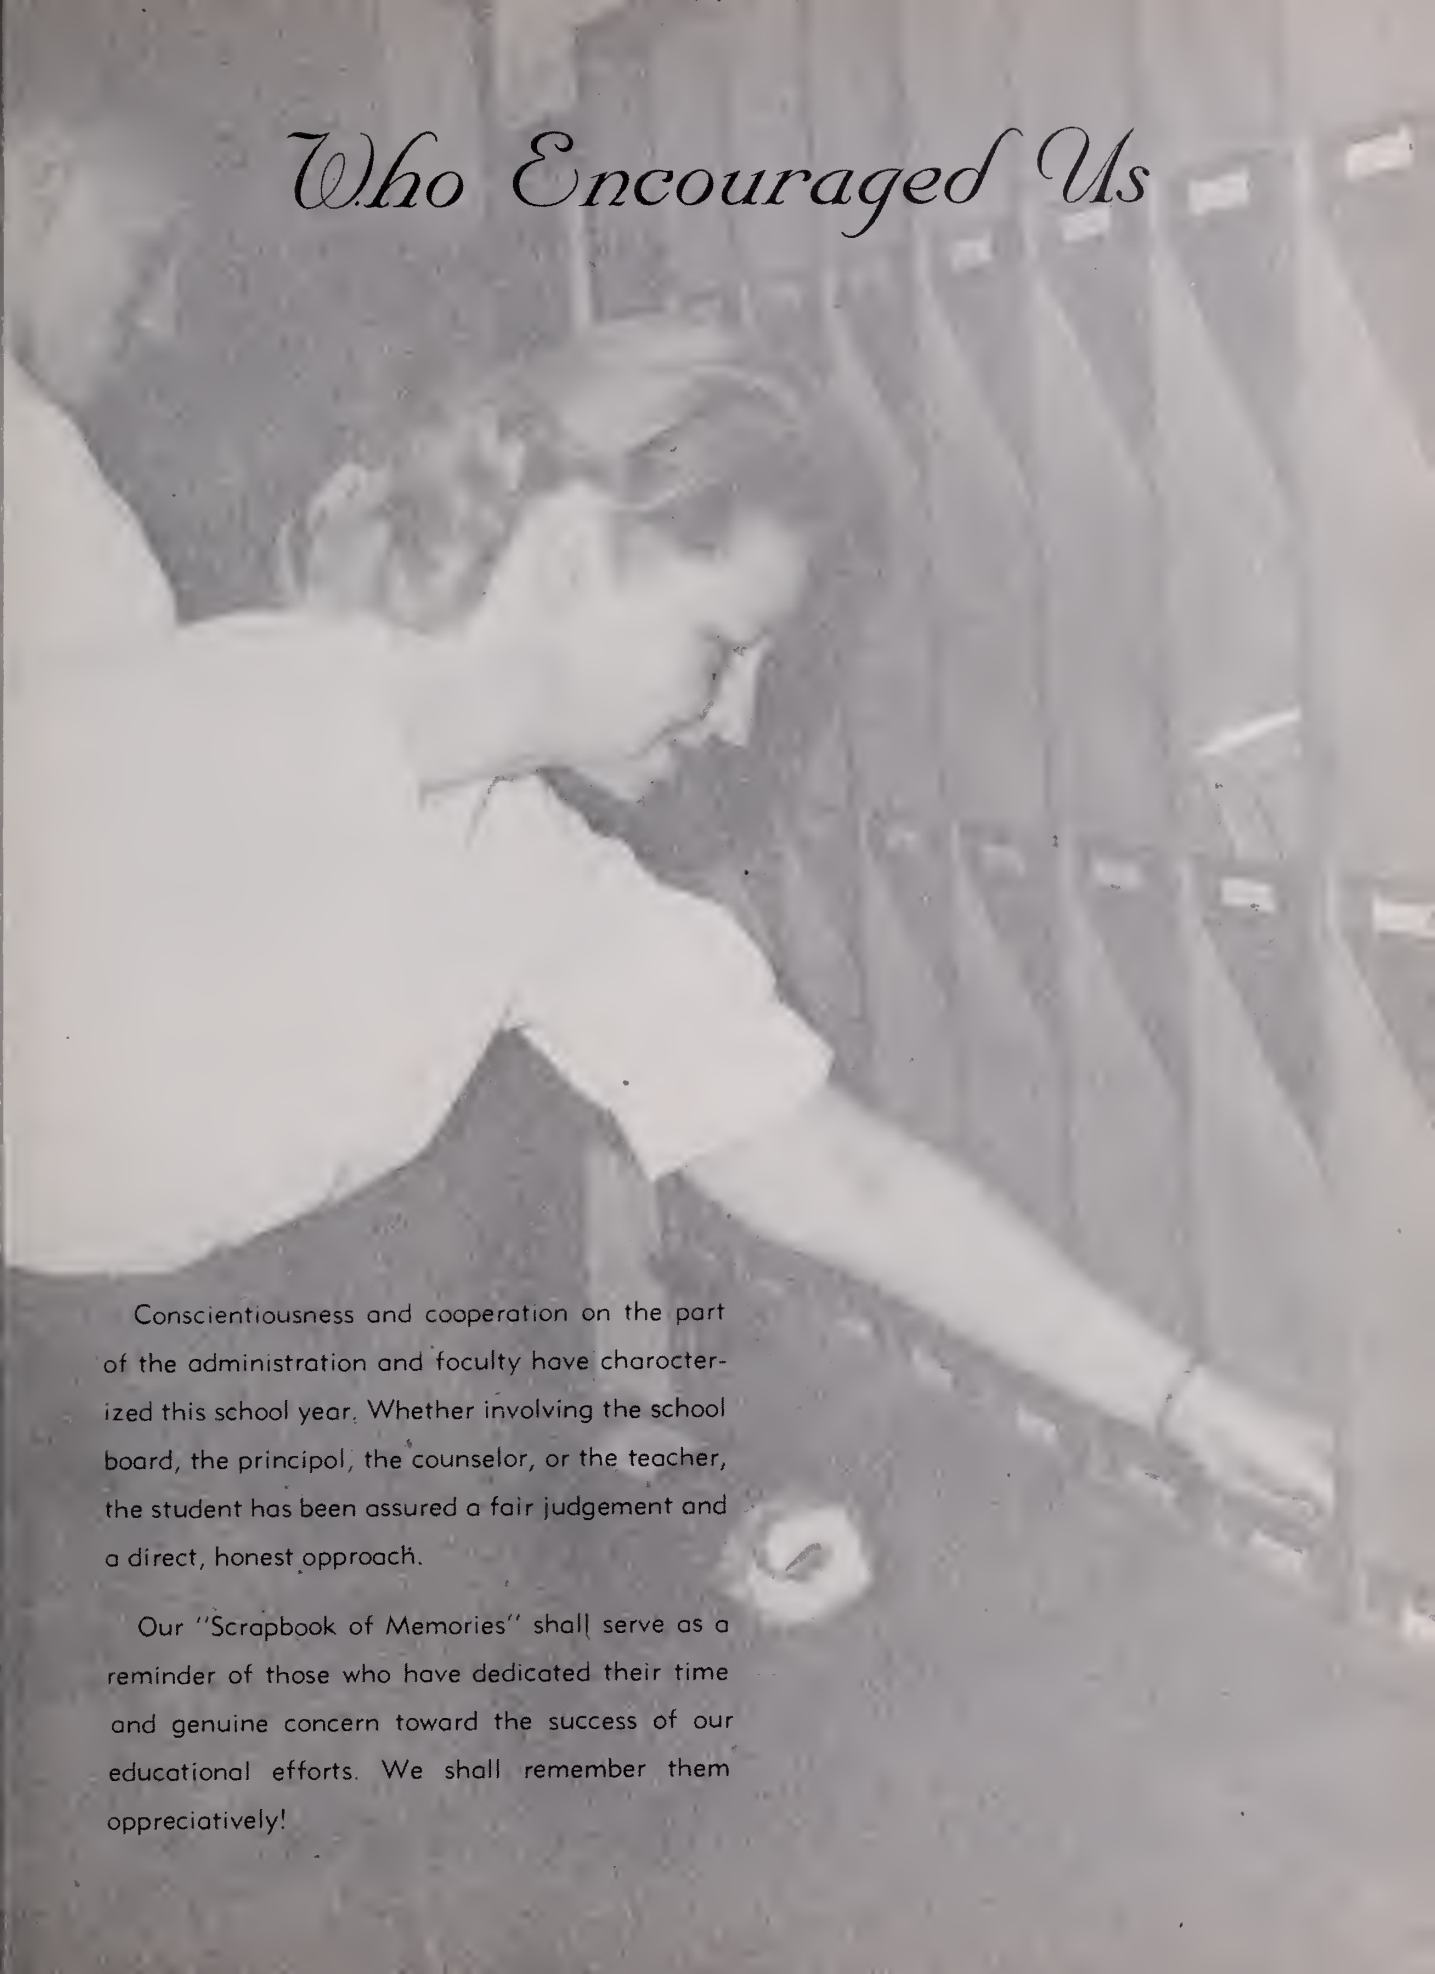

Mr. Byrd takes a proctice swing to keep himself in shope. He is respansible, not only for his own gome, but for Crodack's record since he is both o canscientious Sundoy golfer and an enthusiastic school cooch.

The Administration And Faculty

Who Encouraged Us

Conscientiousness and cooperation on the part of the administration and faculty have charocterized this school year. Whether involving the school board, the principol, the counselor, or the teacher, the student has been assured a fair judgement and a direct, honest opproach.

Our "Scrapbook of Memories" shall serve as a reminder of those who have dedicated their time and genuine concern toward the success of our educational efforts. We shall remember them oppreciatively!

Mr. J. J. Booker, Jr.
Principal

Enthusiasm Sets An Example

FROM THE BRIDGE

The keel for this edition wos loid in the spring of 1964 with the selection of the crew for your yeorbook. Plans hod been drawn for its construction ond lounched during the summer with the members of the senior closs hoving their pictures mode.

The real work began, however, in the foll and continued throughout the yeor. Eoch detoil was carefully worked out ond its progress noted by those responsible for its completion. Step by step the ADMIRAL wos built ond with its christening in Moy, 1965, was to be found the fruition of the dreoms of those by whom it wos designed. Within its hull is to be found o pictorial occount of the octivities of your school which will grow in beouty ond become more cherished by you from yeor to yeor.

We ore indebted to those who ore responsible for this your 1965 ADMIRAL.

A Guidepost For All

Mrs. Rose Pollard
Guidance Director

The GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT existing for no other purpose than to serve, to counsel, and to guide students, tries to give each student accurate information about himself so that he may be equipped to make wise choices concerning his future.

The Guidance Department endeavors to provide the following services:

1. counseling, individual and group
2. maintaining data on all students
3. providing information service to students, parents, teachers, and other authorized persons
4. providing a placement service through the work programs
5. engaging a follow-up program

English Department

Since four yeors of English are required of all students, it is quite normal that the English Department should be the largest in the school. Sixteen classroom teachers and one librarian comprise the stoff that directs the leorning experiences of fifteen hundered students in English, Lotin, Spanish, ond French, along with such related instruction as speech, dramotics, and journalism.

The brood objective of the English department is one of effective communicotion. To facilitate achievement of the goal for every student possible, in addition to regular classroom octivities, other activities ore provided on a voluntary basis. Students may choose to participate in debate, poetry reading, prose reading, public speaking, or spe[illegible] activities provide experiences in oral discou[illegible] to stimulate interest in cre[illegible] ses the publi- cation [illegible] icle for stude[illegible]

Miss Stone instructs her First Aid class personally.

With the increased stress on physical fitness, the Physical Education Department has strived to keep up with the modern program. The fitness of the body has been proved to have a direct influence on the functioning of the mind. Here at Cradock, we are proud of the well-rounded program offered by this department.

Math And Science Require

Mr. Wulzer confuses students.

Have you ever tried to draw a circle with one hand?

The Mathematics Department utilizes the most modern methods of teaching. To keep abreast of the times this department has modernized its program by introducing a series of Modern Math text books which introduce new concepts. It emphasizes learning by reasoning and understanding rather than by memorization.

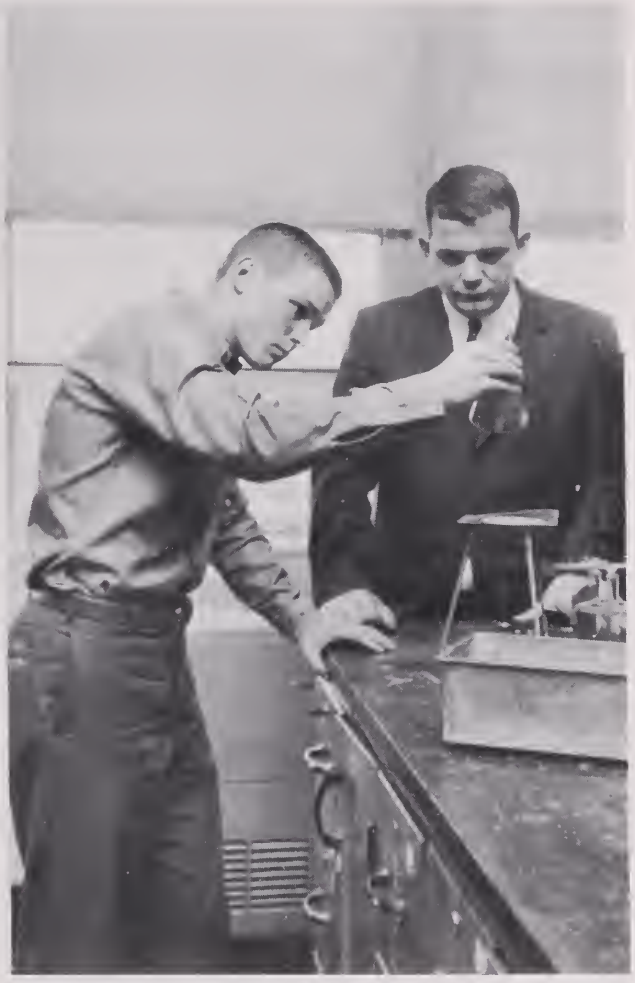

Rickey bisects a trisected dissector.

Thought And Reasoning

The Science Department strives to help the student interpret and understand the world in which he lives. While taking science courses offered at Cradock, a student develops the ability to apply scientific methods of thinking to the solution of problems. We hope to help the student determine whether or not science holds an interest for him and, if so, where that interest lies.

Home Economics And Industrial Arts—

This beats fighting the cafeteria crowd!

We'll draw to see who does dishes.

Part Of Our Everyday Life

Mr. Spruill oversees the production line.

Home Economics and Industrial Arts teach the skills helpful for a successful life. The skills of cooking, sewing, and etiquette are presented in Home Economics classes in a manner that will be useful regardless of any future occupation. In Industrial Arts boys learn to repair and build many household objects. These courses add to the well-rounded curriculum of Cradock students.

The Business Department offers generol consumer-education courses for oll students as well as vocational skill courses for those students preparing for secretarial and clericol positions.

Generol courses include the following: Generol Business, Typing I, Record Keeping, Economics, and Business Low.

Vocotional skill courses include the following: Typing II, Shorthand I, II, Bookkeeping, Clericol Office Training, and Vocationol Office Troining.

Annuol projects include:

1. A VOT Employer-Employee Bonquet.
2. The Future Business Leoders of Americo Club, on outgrowth of the department, offilioted with the stote ond notionol organizotions.
3. A Student Directory.

An Impressive History Of The Class of '65

CLASS HISTORIAN
Elizabeth Wright

We, the senior class of 1965, were first introduced to Cradock High School on a September morning in 1960. Awed by the seeming complexities of the building and dwarfed by the upperclassmen who seldom bothered to notice us, we could not have known that in coming to high school we were entering a new world of studies and activities, a world which we would soon have the opportunity to shape just as the classes preceding us had created the world we observed those first days in September.

Our chance to make our impression upon Cradock did not come quickly, but before November, guided by our class sponsor Mrs. Pollord, we elected our class officers: Ralph Gaebhart, Nita Fortune, Rannie Conway, and Potsy Simmons. The first eighth grade to be represented on the high school Student Council, we elected Betty Forbes, Billy Jones, Kathy Hoyden, and Elizobeth Wright. In sports, olthough we were only the "Baby Admirals," we were proud of our football and bosketboll teams and of our cheering squad.

The next year we entered Cradock more confident of our familiarity with the school organization. Our young confidence was slightly shaken by the taunts of seniors; however, nothing deterred us from assuming a greater role in school activities. Freshmen flooded the clubs, the sports teams, the chorus, the debate team, and the band. Wherever opportunities for participation existed we eagerly accepted them, and school began to notice our class. Nita Fortune, Erlene Fuller, Sandra Nettles, ond Caralyn Salas become majorettes. Harold Kretzer made All-Stote Chorus, and Lindsey Alstan, Randi Bryant, Micky Hirst, and Nat Malcalm made their debuts into high school dramatics in two productions, "Pure as the Driven Snow" and "No Deadly Medicine."

We were pleased when Lindsey Alstan and Randi Bryant became the first freshmen ever to receive their Literary Letters. In sports several of our class members, Ralph Gaebhart, Johnny Griffin, Jack Templetan, Dennis Stickland, and Billy Janes, were already on the varsity football team, and freshman girls outnumbered the sophomores on the cheering squad.

We elected Jackie Taylor, President; Patsy Simmons, Vice-President; Micky Hirst, Secretary; and Rannie Conway, Treasurer. Our sponsors were Mr. Hyde and Miss Brown. Representing our class on the Student Council were Lindsey Alstan, Betty Forbes, Kathy Hayden, and Billy Janes; and representing us in a completely different group, the Homecoming Court, wos Darlene Johnson. Freshman prom chairman, Barbora Cummings, ond her committee members helped to make our first prom recreating "Camelot" a memorable occasion. In the spring, we chose Chris Comstock, Pat Gaffredo, Kathy Hayden, and Micky Hirst to represent our class in the Miss Cradock contest.

As sophomores we looked back upon our previous years as mere preporation for the achievements to come. We were ready to learn and apply methods of influencing the world of our school and of making our presence known. Beginning in our own class, under the leadership of President Lindsey Alstan, we wrote a class constitution, an unprecedented action, and we organized a Class Congress which included o representative from each homeroom and the class officers, Lindsey, Toni Sylvester, Potsy Simmons, ond Mickey Hirst, os well os sponsors, Miss Bryant and Mr. Ross. Sophomores, under the leadership of Mickey Hirst and Darlene Johnson, took the lead in preparing for "Some Enchanted Evening," our prom. In the Miss Cradock Contest our representatives were Betty Foltz, Billie Clevenger, Chris Comstock, and Mickey Hirst, who wos also our representotive in the Homecoming Court.

Our sophomore year was one of outstanding achievements by individuals in our class in many activities. Diane Stone served as S.C.A. Treasurer, Dottie Berck and numerous other sophomores held roles in Crodock's first musicol, Doug Gilmore was a leading basketball scorer, and six sophomores mode All-Stote Chorus. In the spring Dovid Estes received a trophy os Most Valuoble Golf Player, and Elizabeth Wright represented Crodock at the Conference of the Notional Association of Student Councils.

In the fall of 1963 we were prepared for the many positions of leadership and responsibility that would be ours in the next two years. Class President Billy Jones, assisted by Ronnie Conwoy, Ann Poyne, and Patsy Simmons, worked hard to keep our class activities going. The height of these activities was, of course, the Junior-Senior Prom, our gift to the graduating class. Working diligently, chairmen Mickey Hirst and Darlene Johnson, and their committee transformed the gym into the setting for a mogical "Midnight in Rome."

As juniors we were eligible for the National Honor Society; none of us will ever forget the excitement of the morning of the induction or the wide grins of the thirty-odd new junior members of the Society. Our class also provided two S.C.A. officers, Nat Malcolm, Vice-President; and Elizabeth Wright, Secretary. Gordon Wheatly, Chris Comstock, Mickey Hirst, and Pam Godwin were junior representatives. In the S.C.A., os elsewhere that year, our large, strong class often vied with the seniors for many privileges and honors.

In clubs juniors predominated as club presidents, and the F.T.A. shared honors with our class when Randi Bryant was elected State F.T.A. Vice-President and, the next year, President. On the district F.T.A. level Tim Casteen and Dale Brinson won offices. In Diversified Occupations Larry Burchett was elected Stote President, and also on the stote-wide level, Elizabeth Wright was elected State Secretary of the S.C.A.

The Cradock band was led by two members of the class of '65, Not Molcolm, drum major, and Nita Fortune, heod majorette. In dramatics our class sholl never forget Roger Styron ond Buddy Lucas, who both played Conrod Birdie in two performances of "Bye, Bye, Birdie," our second musical. Other singing, dancing, ond acting members of the class of '65 to hold major or supporting roles in the musical were Harold Kretzer, Betty Foltz, Barbara Bastinelli, Dottie Berck, Sandra Nettles, and Nat Malcolm.

How proud we were in the spring of 1964 when the stote forensics competitions were completed and we leorned the Randi Bryant had been awarded First Place in Girls Public Speaking. Our closs already had a fine record of performance in mony contests, particularly in the district forensics competition, but Randi's award was our first state-wide record in forensics. Within our school that yeor, we were also proud of Johnny Griffin, who was named Most Voluable Track Man, and of David Estes, again Most Voluable Golf Player.

In May our rings came and our delight, mirrored in their sparkling surfoces, was not even dimmed by sarcasm from the seniors. By June we were more than eager for the class of 1964 to graduate, for possession of our rings reminded us thot our turn for school leadership had come. We would soon be the seniors!

With September came the beginning of the end for the class of 1965. Over the years we had earned our place at the top of school society, not merely by our chronological position, but by the numerous contributions we had made to Cradock collectively and individually. Getting a good start under closs President Nat Malcolm, we elected Mrs. Adamson and Mr. Groham closs sponsors, and we chose to dedicate our annual to Mr. Byrd, Assistant Principal.

Homecoming approached, and, directed by George Perrot, Homecoming chairman, members of our class worked to make Homecoming on unforgettable event. Our class was particularly happy to score a "first" with our Senior Class floot. The right to build a float was one of the several senior privileges we had requested and received. In a woy Homecoming wos sad for us; becouse, as we watched the football players and the cheerleaders from our class and the floats that represented, to a great extent, our efforts, we reolized that this was indeed our last Homecoming. The traditions, the efforts, the joys, and the satisfactions would pass from our hands into others in the succeeding years. It was the same in everything; assemblies, the Christmas programs, the dances, the sports events.

As each event came ond passed, we remembered it was our last. Yet despite the underlying finality of all our senior activities, school life continued os alwoys. Our closs supplied three of the S.C.A. officers: Billy Jones, President; Pam Godwin, Secretory; ond Dole Brinson, Treasurer. To the great delight of our entire school, Kathy McCormock wos nomed a finolist in the Notionol Merit Scholorship Competition. The costs and stoffs of the yeor's dromotic productions, "Antigone" and "The Music Man," were filled by seniors.

Fall and winter passed quickly and veteron Cradock players like football tri-captains Ralph Geabhart, Buddy Pleasants, and Dennis Strickland, and basketball co-captains Dennis Novack and Doug Gilmore ployed their last games and retired forever from high school competitions.

The second semester passed quickly, and, as we prepared for the Prom, Bonquet, and Senior Play in May, and for the final activities, baccaloureate and graduotion, we looked backward to our five years together, regretting their quick passage, yet pleased with the "scrapbook of memories" that we had filled with the many activities we had shared. We were proud of whot we, through our own efforts, had made Cradock become and were hopeful that the future classes would save the best of our high school environment—the world we had created and now passed—to them. We were certain that in the years to come our experiences in high school would provide a firm basis for our progress and our contributions to the larger worlds we soon would enter.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

As we goze into the future ond think of doys gone by,

We think of oll the golden hours we spent in Crodock High.

We think of oll the trips we took ond of oll the fun we hod.

We think of the initiotions ond things thot mode us mod.

We think of proms ond ploys ond of teochers thot mode us tome.

And we won't soon forget going to o Crodock footboll gome.

We think of how the Victory Bell rong; No, we won't soon forget.

We think of oll the lourels thot our closs hos gothered here,

And how, on mony o gloomy doy, we tronsformed sodness to cheer.

All these thoughts con be recolled ond then fode into the sky,

But we will never forget our own, our unconquered Crodock High!

We, The Senior Class, Leave . . .

CLASS LAWYER
Lindsey Alston

I, BOB GOMER, do hereby leave to next yeor's college-bound seniors one-half bottle of tronquilizers in hopes that it will do a better job of stopping the nervous breokdowns they will have while woiting for occeptonce notices from college.

I, BARBARA BASTINELLI, leave to Mr. Westler the little 'jug' I kept promising him throughout the yeor.

I, VICKI GARRENTON, leave to some unbolonced student one seot belt which hos kept me olive through two years of Mechonicol Drawing.

I, ANN BUNCH, leave the librory my biography, Twelve Years as a Prisoner.

I, PAULETTE CAWTHON, leove Mr. Westler—glodly!

I, BOBBY SIMMONS, leove some deserving student the thrill of taking core of Mrs. Vonce's pet guineo pig.

I, CAROLYN SALAS, leave some deserving mojorette two botons I lost, two empty majorette boots, o short cope, and a bottle of ospirins.

I, ANN HALL, leave my long hoir to Mrs. Trudell, so she will hove more to pull when she gets upset with a student.

I, NAOMI BICKLEY, leave to Mr. Wode my bottle of Light ond Bright for his poor bold heod.

I, BILL VILLANUEVA, leove my size nine ond o holf bosketboll shoes to my brother Ray so that by the time he is o senior he moy be able to weor them.

I, NANCY ADAMS, leove Mr. Wulzer my diet plon ond o pottern for o new tie.

I, JEEP WHITAKER, leove my great cheer to the juniors to be used only on groduotion: "Freedom one time, freedom . . ."

I, MARIE LEE, leove oll my broken bones to the eighth grode for their Washington trip.

I, DOUG GILMORE, leove to Cradock High School my house key, which I hove used here so much during the yeor, ond a forwording oddress—6448 West 12th Avenue, Hioleah, Florido.

I, JOAN ATKINSON, leave Miss Rodes another life.

I, GAIL HAMMOND, leove Mr. Maynord my size eleven ond o holf shoes which he seems never to be oble to stoy off.

I, MARGARET SWAIN, wos in such a hurry to leove thot I took everything with me.

I, LINDA TORGE, leave my cuts, bruises, ond broken fingernoils to next yeor's sixth period gym class.

I, BILL SMITH, leove Mr. Prillomon the novel Wake Up and Live, ond o supply of No-Doze pills to present to his closses.

I, ROSALIE WEYANT, leave the future bonner corriers one poir of worn-out morching boots ond o bottle of splinters that I got from corrying the banner.

I, CAROLYN HORD, leove my lock on my locker so Mr. Byrd will hove to sow it off.

I, BOBBY KILPATRICK, leove! . . . leove! . . . leove!

I, DOTTIE BERCK, leove the ability to shed teors when nothing else works to whomever hos enough Kleenex.

I, FAYE HUGHES, leove Bobby Freeland one full box of Johnson ond Johnson Bond-Aids for all the times I've 'cut him up' during the yeor.

I, MARGARET KOONCE, leove to oll Crodock students the hoppiness of belonging to one big, hoppy fomily—the student body.

I, JACK NEELY, leove Cradock High the obility to meet and beat any ond oll opponents, os long os the student body is behind it.

I, MIKE BEEBE, leave the SHIPMATE one lorge file of ill-foted stoff photos, one box someone hod o nerve to call o comera, and one over-used press cord which I received in 1961.

I, TRUCKY TAYLOR, o member of the Traffic Committee, leove my post whenever possible.

I, TOMMY WATSON, leove o permonent record of our lunch menu in the books of my friends.

I, HAROLD KRETZER, o noturol loser, leove hundreds of messy cofeterio troys which I have 'won' (?).

I, RONNIE CONWAY, leove oll members of the esteemed Troffic Committee sticky poges (porticularly in Physics books).

I, GORDON WHEATLY, leove my well-guorded post at the request of Teddy Bailey.

I, BILL HAVENS, leove oll the vorious combinotions to Nat Malcolm's locker ond o church key for the contents therein.

I, NAT MALCOLM, leove my locker, its vorious locks, and o holl full of old beer cons to onyone who likes old beer.

We, BOBBY STINETTE, TOMMY WATSON, WILLIAM THORNTON, RONNIE CONWAY, ond BILL HAVENS, leove Mr. Wulzer oll the beer cons thot fell out of Not Molcolm's locker on February 26, 1965 to do with os he wishes.

We, the TRAFFIC COMMITTEE of 1965, leave our food— and beveroge—flovored textbooks to ony hungry goot.

Signed, seoled, and delivered on this twenty-sixth day of Februory in the yeor of our Lord nineteen hundred and sixty-five.

Homeroom Teachers

Mrs. Adamson—"In the largest class to graduate from Cradock High School, by the law of averages, there are more potential leaders—perhaps even a President, who knows! Added to that, the higher percentage of honor students, the greater number of students winning honors and participating in activities on regional and state levels would indicate a bright future for the Class of 1965. Best wishes!

Mrs. Bruce—"I think the Class of '65 has a fine array of brains, beauty, and ability. We will certainly be hearing about some of you."

Mr. Graham—"The Senior Class of 1965 will enter college with collective potentials unequaled by classes of the immediate past. The prognosis for academic success is a good one. The vast array of talents and abilities demonstrated in high school work certainly provides them with the tools necessary for success in their future learning pursuits.

For a class or individuals with such abilities, there are dangers, too. Many of the members of this class have been successful at Cradock with no strain on their abilities. To be thrust into a more competitive college situation will offer greater challenges and may result in temporary frustrations. I am, however, confident that this class can and will meet those challenges and make the transition successfully."

Mrs. Hampton—"As I gaze into my crystal ball, I see a few students who, by choice it seems, will be with us next year. The other students display very few bruises compared to the number of 'blows' of reality they have faced and overcome."

Mrs. Morgan—"Due to the wide diversity of abilities of the students in the senior class, I predict the present senior class will have a greater number entering the professions than any previous Cradock graduating class."

View Our Class

Mr. Prillaman—"David Fitzwoter, Roger Styron, Horry Amory, and Doug Creech will be members of the Roid Your Neighborhood City Club. Gordon Wheotly will be o pest control expert speciolizing in fish removal. Ronnie Carrigon will write the best seller, 'How to Run Out on Your Friends ond Not Get Caught.' "

Mr. Westler—"I predict thot the present senior closs will prove to be one of the finest senior classes in the history of Crodock High School."

Mr. Wulzer—"I predict the Closs of '65 will produce some of the outstonding citizens of tomorrow "

Miss Lumsden and Miss Mullins—"We predict that ot the class reunion of 1975, 10% of the senior class will orrive in their spoce ships; 60% will bring along their 5 children; 2% will come from jail (on parole); 2% from the unemployment lines; 2% from engagements in Hollywood ond Poris; .01% from the Metropolitan Opera; 10% who took port in o toothpaste test; and 14% secretaries to executives."

Class President: Andy Stompley

Under the leodership of Andy Stampley, class president, and the other officers, this yeor's Junior class hos really been one of odventure ond fine spirit.

There were many octivities to moke it one of our most memoroble yeors ot Crodock. The most importont events were the Junior-Senior Prom, which proved our class to be hord-working ond co-operotive; and, of course, the doy we received our long owoited Senior Closs rings.

As oll of the memories of this yeor foll into the post, the class of '66 foce its Senior yeor with eogerness ond enthusiasm.

"Really, Regina! Richmand the capital af Tennessee?"

of '66

We shall always remember aur Saphamare year as being a happy one. Led by Gary Phillips, class president, and Miss Liddle and Mr. Carroll, class sponsors, we experienced a most exciting year. Our success was largely due to aur willingness to work together in a happy blaze of renewed friendships, football games, and new back to school activities. Soon we were caught up in the Homecaming festivities — the float, the dance, the parade.

The thrill of the year, however, was our Freshman-Sophomore Prom. As always, the Sophomores gave their full support to insure the Prom's success.

We are well satisfied with our Sophomore year and the memories it leaves us. We are now looking forward to our last two years at Cradock and hope that they will be as wonderful as this one was.

The Sports

Which Thrilled Us

Capturing the excitement and thrill of a touchdown pass thrown through the crisp nippy night air or a winning basket shot under the pressure of hundreds of screaming steamed-up fans, is to capture that part of school life which most dramatically expresses the spirit of competition. No matter what the sport, Cradock athletes and observers as well gain the experience of learning to win and lose, to accept victory and defeat with equal grace.

Sports at Cradock will linger long in our minds as we recall those scenes which thrilled us so. Our "Scrapbook of Memories" shall refresh our recollections by presenting to us the faces and scores which impressed us so deeply. We shall remember then enthusiastically!

We Salute Our

Tri-captains: Dennis Strickland, Ralph Geabhart, and Johnny Griffin.

Cradock Admirals

Plagued by injuries and bad luck, the Admirals compiled a disappointing statistical record, but one which vouched for its effort and spirit. Only 19 points robbed Cradock of a victorious season.

After winning four of their first five games, Cradock experienced a series of defeats which dimmed all chances for securing the district championship. With injuries hitting Geabhart, Griffin, and Pleasants, the team played under a great handicap. But, winning or losing, the Admirals always strived to pick up that extra yard or stop the drive of the opposing team.

All the Admirals sacrificed time and effort to insure Cradock of the honor it deserved. For this spirit alone, we should be proud. A team that gives its all in every game is a team of which we can all be proud. The Fighting Admirals of '64 was such a team. FIGHTING ADMIRALS OF '64 WE SALUTE YOU!

Coaching Staff: Mr. Larry Weldon, Mr. Billy Strickland, Mr. Marion Carroll, and Mr. Mac Eure.

Managers.: Robby Richardson and Randy Thompson.

Gridiron Heroes of '64

Coach Larry Weldon

Larry Weldon and Cradock High School have shared tears of victory and defeat for fourteen years. During this period, Weldon, dean of Eastern District coaches, has guided the Admirals to an overall record of 74 wins, 58 losses, and 8 ties.

Mr. Weldon, a long-time athlete, is a former Washington Redskin quarterback and one of Presbyterian College's all-time great backs. Besides his football accomplishments, he compiled an impressive record in the minor leagues.

Out goes our royal salute to a most deserving man.

Individual Effort Primes A New Winter Sport

INDOOR TRACK

For the first time Cradock carried out its indoor track season to a completion. This year's indoor track team consisted mainly of underclassmen. Even though the members of this team were inexperienced, they contributed a great deal of enthusiasm and hard work to the success of their first season. Perhaps the drive which caused this team to win half of its meets will bring many more successful seasons to the men of indoor track.

Co-captains Jahn Meeks and Mike Wyatt with coach, Mr. Perkins.

The Organizations

Which Involved Us

In an attempt to broaden its students, Cradock strives to offer activities for all through its great variety of organizations. Social, Service, and Scholastic clubs encourage every student to involve himself in an organization which can serve him and which he can serve effectively.

Our "Scrapbook of Memories" has recorded the officers, members, and projects of the numerous clubs to which we have dedicated so many hours of fun and work, but mostly, comradship. We shall remember them joyously!

The Student Council began this year in fine style with its annual back-to-school projects—the Teacher's Tea, 8th grade orientation, the Back-to-School Dance, and the opening assembly. The Council planned numerous activities to carry out its objectives and the state theme of "Goals Guide Growth." It gave service through various drives and projects and leadership training through the mock election and other activities. By carrying out its objectives, the Council's hope was to serve and benefit the school. Its objectives were:

1. To guide the students to become active, informed citizens.
2. To maintain sound relations between the Council and the student body.
3. To project a good image of Cradock by emphasizing positive, constructive behavior.
4. To develop a love for the school and an interest in the community.
5. To create an awareness of one's responsibilities—social, moral, and personal.

Many well-planned activities helped to make this year a successful one.

Admiralettes Works To Accomplish Its Goals

The ambition of an Admiralettes member is to do the best she can in speech, manner, study, and service to make life most worthwhile for herself and her community.

This year we have had many activities which, we feel, were of enjoyment and benefit to all. We entered a float in Homecoming, donated food to the Animal Shelter and canvassed for needy families at Christmas. We have tried to achieve a closer relationship with the school and its separate organizations.

It is with great appreciation that we extend our thanks to Mrs. Boswell for her sponsorship and guidance this year in Admiralettes.

Kappa began its year with a rousing picnic and pajama party, held for the purpose of getting the girls acquainted with each other.

Later in the year, Kappa entered a float in the Homecoming parade. The float's theme was "Kappa gets a kick out of the class of 1954."

Our objective "to promote projects that will benefit both the school and community," was carried out when we helped in the community by collecting food for Thanksgiving and by helping a needy family at Christmas. These and other projects helped the members of Kappa have a successful year serving the school and community.

In School Spirit

Admiral's Young Men of Action, after reaching the summit as Club of the Year last year, was again striving to accomplish its goals and reach the top this year. Under the able leadership of Ronnie Conway, president, Y.M.A. was once again one of the leading clubs at Cradock High.

Y.M.A. members had many enjoyable times, while at the same time they promoted student activities, improved community projects, and upheld the highest ideals of student citizenship.

These are just a few af the activities af Sigma in the year 1964-65 and it is haped that future years will be just as successful.

Delta Cruises Into

Delta is a club which promotes high standards of Christian character in young girls. This club is guided by Mrs. JoAnne Vance, to whom we owe a great debt for her sponsorship during the year.

The main objectives of Delta are to serve the home, school and community. These objectives have been carried out through many beneficial activities during the year. This club served the school by entering a float in Homecoming, promoting better response to P. T. A., and by giving a scholarship to a member at the end of the year.

Delta served the community by contributing to the United Fund the proceeds from a Halloween Dance and by collecting clothes for the needy.

F. T. A.'ers Enjoy Teaching

If you heard some student relating tales of the "Blackboard Jungles", there is a good chance he was a student teacher. This year F.T.A.'ers substituted for teachers attending the V.E.A. Conference and for two days these potential teachers had the opportunity to experience the life on the other side of the classroom. The F.T.A. gathered at Christmas for its annual party and reunion. When spring came a scholarship was presented to a deserving member of the club.

After a very succesful first year, the Language Arts Club entered its second year at Cradock this year. This club is composed of students studying French, Spanish or Latin.

As objectives for this year the club strived to promote better understanding among the three foreign languages taught at Cradock and to render its services to worthwhile causes of the school and community. In the future the club hopes to present a scholarship to a deserving student which would enable him to study in a foreign land.

Future Scientists Organize

This year with the able assistance of our sponsors, Mr. Ross and Mr. Rollins, the Science Club is making great bounds forward by accomplishing our objectives, which are: to learn to perfect skill in science, to give service in community and nation, and to understand the importance of science in daily life.

Fulfilling these objectives, we managed to instill the ideals of science in our members.

The purpose of the Future Medical Leaders of America is to acquaint the club members and other students with the different phases of the medical profession in which they are most interested. The Club has accomplished its purpose by having the members tour the area hospitals and by inviting guest speakers to the meetings.

The F.M.L.A. owes a great debt to its sponsor Mrs. Vallie Trent, without whose help the Club could not have attained its goals.

The Art Club Trains Talented Art Students

The Art Club's main objective is to promote better interest and appreciation in art.

With much enthusiasm, the group visited the museums in Portsmouth and Norfolk. The members also took an imaginary trip to France and were served a delightful French meal, compliments of the Giant Open Air Market. The Club sold candy at the Student-Faculty game, entered a winning float in the Homecoming parade and filled a stocking for a child at the Christmas Party.

At the end of the year, the Club's annual party was held and enjoyed by all.

Bible Club Promotes Christian Influence

The main objectives of the Cradock Bible Club are to magnify Christ in spiritual growth, to instruct Christians in Him, and to promote Christian fellowship.

The Bible Club participated in Homecoming activities and was a hard working club while it promoted all S.C.A. and Inter-Club Council projects.

The Club also gave devotions over the public address system and tried to promote a better Christian atmosphere and fellowship in Cradock High School.

D. O. Club Members Learn The Fundamentals Of Their Trades

The Diversified Occupations Club of 1964-65 started off the year very well. This was the only club to have two members elected to district offices, and Larry Burchett, president of the chapter, served as State D. O. President.

The objectives of the D. O. Club are:

1. Character
2. Craftsmanship
3. Citizenship
4. Leadership
5. Fellowship

The club's goals for this year were to bring honor to Cradock High and to bring prestige to our employers. We feel that we have accomplished these goals.

The Choral Department Flourishes

The Chorus this year, as in the past, has achieved its purpose of spreading good will in the school, community, and city by way of singing. This year's chorus, one of the largest in the school's history, was host chorus for the 1965 Eastern District All-State Chorus, held at Cradock in February. Under the able leadership of Mrs. Harriet Heath, the choruses had another successful and prosperous year.

The Band Members Provide Musical

Mr. David Steelman
Bond Director

The Cradock High School Band has had its best year since Mr. David Steelman began building it back up in 1961. With over 100 marching pieces, it received acclaim for both its parades and half-time shows from the most critical audience of all, the students. The band entered the Spring Music Festival playing the most difficult music and topped off the year with its annual Spring Concert.

The band members have learned to work together, to discipline themselves, and to accept

Gymnastics Girls Learn Tricks And Acrobatics

The Gymnastics Club is a youth organization for girls sponsored by Miss Cunningham and Miss Jersild.

The main objectives for the club are to develop co-ordination, rhythm, balance, endurance, flexibility, alertness, daring, self-discipline, strengthen self-confidence, creativeness, and, above all, to strengthen our bodies through exercise.

This year the club entered the state meet at O. D. C. and other local contests. In addition to various meets, the Gymnastics Club gave demonstrations for other schools and in one assembly.

Future Homemakers Prepare For Tomorrow

F.H.A. activities offer to its members the opportunity for development of initiative in planning and carrying out functions related to homemaking. The F.H.A. brings together girls interested in working toward better home and family living and provides the opportunity for members to share their problems that are essential to home life.

This club came into being as a cooperative effort of the girls enrolled in homemaking classes, who wanted an organization of their own in which they may develop social qualities and promote better home life for themselves and their families.

Which Inspired Us

To recall those times which prompted us to clap our hands with appreciation is to recall the Homecomings which involved us, the assemblies which informed and entertained us, the special awards and honors which were presented us, and the plays which served as experience for some of us and enjoyment for all of us.

This section of our "Scrapbook of Memories" unfolds those happenings which we have witnessed and experienced during this year at Cradock. We shall remember them fondly!

Evelyn Whitlack woves an enuthsiostic greeting from o tissue igloo on the Sigmo floot.

Homecoming 1964

Through cold ond wind, students lobored on this year's Homecoming floats. Tissue flowers and crepe paper blew around the back parking lots as the floots neored completion. Students ran around franticolly trying to hold their floats together, ot least, until the judges had seen them.

As the parade wound down Afton Parkway, people were crowded on either side of the street to moke their own choices os to which float wos best.

The judges chose the D. O. float as the prettiest, the Y. M. A. floot os the most original, and the Art Club floot as the one best welcoming the closs of 1954.

Loter thot night at the footboll game, the day's events were climoxed by the crowning of Micky Hirst os The Homecoming Queen of 1964. The students breathed a tired sigh of relief os the final whistle blew ending the 1964 Homecoming.

The members of Y. M. A. put the finol touches on their floot. In spite of Joe Speors' hoiry legs, it was o prize-winning flaot.

The queen and her court extended a beautiful welcome to the alumni. Front: Micky Hirst, Homecoming Queen, and Chris Camstack, senior representative; back: Frances Matthews, 8th grade representative; Paula Smith, sophomore respresentative, and Dreama Williams, freshman representative.

The floats passing in review delighted the many children who lined the streets.

Cradock Stages

Greek Drama

Jean Anouilh's Antigone was presented at Cradock on December 11, 1964, to a packed house. For one hour and thirty minutes the audience was held spellbound as the actors portrayed the ancient story of sentiment versus logic.

A tragedy of this sort has never been presented here. It will be a long time before another play at Cradock has the quality and impact of Antigone.

The cast included:

Antigone	Dottie Berck
Chorus	Horold Kretzer
Haemon	Bruce Keotan
Ismene	Sally Morgan
Third Guard	Mike Wasley
Poge	Ricky Price
Creon	Nat Malcolm
Nurse	Randi Bryont
First Guard	Howard Whitaker
Second Guard	Tam McCotter
Messenger	Rannie McCutcheon
Eurydice	Phyllis Pearce

A truly memorable dramatic experience in the year 1964.

Antigone explains to Crean thot it is inhumon to leave the dead unburied.

Trends were prominent in hoir-dos this yeor. Like Froncine Hormon, mony of Crodock's girls were seen weoring perfectly motched ortificiol hoir pieces. The more cosuol styles ore typified by Jewell Horris ond Sherry Heckle. Some girls' hoir wos worn long ond flipped up, others, short ond turned under.

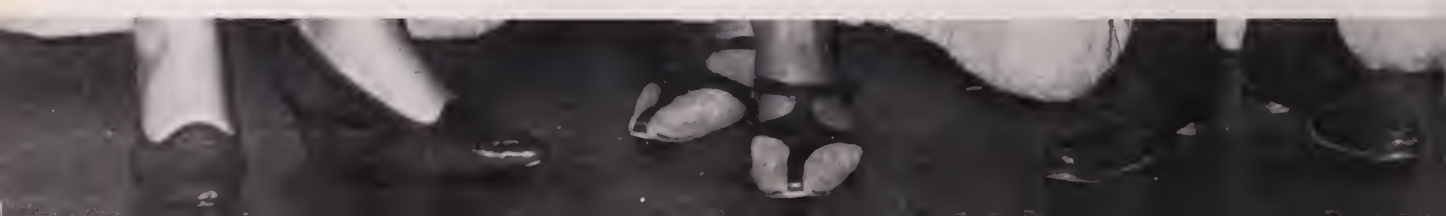

Round collored blouses in postel colors were extremely populor omong the femole students, os were goyly potterned jumpers ond sweoter-vests.

This yeor girls' legs hod rother new oppeoronces. Some legs were ploin, others seemed to be sporting loce ond vorious potterns in os mony colors. These textured hose were extremely well-liked os were over-the-knee kneesocks.

Shuffling down the holls on feminine feet were the ever-present "Scotch groins" ond something new, the sophisticoted stocked heel. Also coming in with the new yeor were burlop ond leother cut-owoy shoes known os "fruit shoes." The lotter resulted in mony o cold foot for the soke of foshion.

Fads Typify More Fashion-Conscious Students

Men's fashions also took on a new look in '65. Stan DeHart is wearing the typical button-down collar shirt which came in as many as there are colors. Sweaters ranged from soft wool V-necks to bulky mohair cardigans. Slacks lost their "sprayed-on" look and became much less tapered and more collegiate. Stan is a perfect example of a casually-dressed young man.

Following the poce set by the popular singing group, the Beatles, the Beatle hair cut became "the thing." Varieties ranged from Roger Styron's more conservative cut to some that came below the ears. Also well-liked for more formal occasion wos the club tie. Suits displayed the slimmer, more debonair look. Shoes came in models from Roger's respected "Cordovan" to the far-fetched "Desert Boots."

Paula Smith helps Santa unload his sleighful of toys to the eager children.

Christmas Party Brings Joy To Children

The SCA's annual Christmas party for the underprivileged children of the community was an even greater success than usual. Such joy is rarely seen as when a small boy opened a gift and whispered unbelievingly, "Gosh, my very own books."

Happiness is a gift.

Delegates to Bays' State were Lindsey Alstan, Nat Malcalm, and Billy Janes.

Outstanding Seniors Attend Boys' and Girls' States

Pam Gadwin and Mickey Hirst represented Cradock at Girls' State.

Virginia's Boys' and Girls' States are essentially crash programs for the study of Virginia state government. For seven days during the summer, students from all over the state attend lectures, watch demonstrations, and see movies all dealing with government in Virginia. The Virginia American Legion sponsors both States. They present a summarized analysis of Virginia's three governmental branches.

The framework is similar to that of Virginia state. It is composed of twelve independent and competitive cities, each named after a famous American statesman and each with a population of about fifty. Each stater is a member of one of the two political parties, Federalist or Nationalist. Each city elects its own officials who run for office on the ticket of their party. City offices range from Mayor to Commissioner of Sanitation. The American Legion rounds out the seven day program with speeches by prominent statesman, businessmen, and clergymen.

All of these activities are designed to achieve the unique purpose of both States, making a better person of each one who attends.

"American citizenship is my most priceless possession" was the thought foremost in each Stater's mind and is one everyone should remember.

Elizobeth Wright disploys her domestic tolents which won her the Betty Cracker Search for the Homemoker of Tomarrow Contest.

Kothy McCormock looks through yearbooks, trying to decide which collage to ottend next yeor. Kothy is o finalist in the Notional Merit Scholorship Contest.

Students Excel In Varied Fields

These bond members hove shown such exceptional talent that they hove been chosen to be part of the Tidewater All-Regional Band. They are, Back Row: Steve Clork, Not Molcalm, Front Row: Winston Borkloy, Dione Stone, Bill Clark, Babby Frazier.

Ruth Liljegren registers for the Eastern Regional Chorus. This year over 400 students come to Cradock for this musical workshop, which was directed by Mr. Paul Solamunovich from Hollywood, Colifornio:

This year, Cradock sponsored dances in the cafeteria following athletic events. Here exhibitionist students did the "Swim," "Jerk," and "T-Bird." In this typical scene it's impossible to tell who's dancing with whom, but it's easy to see that the dances provided a good time for everyone.

Dean and the Mustongs were only one of the many bands, composed of local high school talent, who provided the blaring music for the Friday night dances.

Assemblies Add Variety to School Life

The National Honar Saciety presented on impressive ossembly to induct new members. The Rev. Corl Coslet spoke on the qualities of o successful ond happy adulthood.

Jeon Caaper was mildly surprised when Marie Whitehurst tapped her into the Society. Jean wos among twenty-seven new members inducted in a beoutiful condlelight ceremany.

Cradock was extremely fortunate in hearing Lt. Gov. Mills Godwin speak at our football awards assembly.

Ralph Geabhart presented Mr. Booker with o football inscribed with the score of the Cradock-Wilson game, 6-6.

Mr. Weldon welcomes Sen. William Spong to the assembly.

More Assemblies Enliven The Year.

On Wednesday the student body assembled in the gymnasium for a rousing assembly. Both parties were given equal opportunity to present their party platforms. Later all students who had registered, voted at their respective precincts. The returns showed Johnson the victor with 709 votes out of 1242.

The frenzy of campaigns and the presidential election hit Cradock during the week of Oct. 26-30. The lunchroom was plastered with election posters and shouts of "In your heart you know he is right" and "L.B.J. for the U.S.A." hung in the air.

The Charus presented their annual assembly and sang many familiar Christmas carols.

A tableau was staged by charus members as a beautiful finale ta their Christmas assembly.

Admiring the portrait are the Mapp family and Larry Burchett, president of the D.O. Club, which ca-spansared the idea.

Mr. Mapp tald ane of his famaus jokes when he thonked the student bady.

Retiring Superintendent Honored

On March 3, 1965, Cradock High School honored the retiring Superintendent of Portsmauth Public Schools, Mr. Alf J. Mapp, by presenting him with a large oil painting of himself. The entire student body took part in this tribute to a fine man.

The class presidents farmed a receiving line far Mr. Mapp and visiting dignitaries.

Some Scenes To Remember In '64

Some dogs were more faithful in their attendonce this yeor thon the students.

Lt. Governor Mills Godwin gives his outograph to John Griffen ofter the 1964 footboll owords ossembly.

A door exclusively for seniors wos one of the mony privileges oworded to the Closs of '65.

It was a rare mament when Mr. Baaker danated assembly time ta a T-Bird sessian.

Here's a real camman scene. Cradack literally gave the referees a run far their maney this year.

Here ends another volume in the continuing story of our school. Some will leave never to return, but there will always be others to carry on the Cradock spirit.

Our Advertisers Who Supply Us

Whether it is our clothes, cors, or capsules, necessities or luxuries, we of Crodock High hove olwoys been fortunote to hove ovoiloble for our use ond pleosure o lorge voriety of goods. We oppreciote the friendly ottitude of those who serve us.

As we close our "Scropbook of Memories," we sholl recognize those who ore openly concerned with our progress. We sholl remember them foithfully.

Miss Cradock Is Selected

April 23rd marked the date of the annual Miss Cradock Contest, sponsored by the Student Council. The affair was presented in the auditorium which was beautifully decorated to carry out the theme of "the Goddess of Beauty". Amidst a flurry of satin and silk, twenty of the most beautiful girls in the school, selected by their classmates, competed for the coveted title. Virginia Mathison, a senior, was selected to reign as Miss Cradock of 1965. Betty Foltz, another senior, was first runner-up and Margaret Black, an eighth-grader, was second runner-up. Carolyn Salas was chosen by the contestants themselves to be "Miss Congeniality." Chosen by the judges on the basis of beauty, charm, and poise, Virginia will certainly represent Cradock well as our "Goddess of Beauty."

Cradock Welcomes "Music Man"

Stupendous! Marvelous! Fantastic! These were some of the remarks overheard on May 21 and 22. The occasion was the Fine Arts Department's production of "Music Man." Thought to be an impossible task, "Music Man" overcame many set-backs and obstacles to become a smashing success.

The story concerns a professional conman, Harold Hill (played by Nat Malcolm), and his attempts to sell a boys' band to the folks of River City, but Marion Paroo (Sandra Nettles), has a few objections to his plans. After many enjoyable songs, dances, and general hullabaloo the objections were dissolved.

Marian comes to Professor Harold Hill's defense when the tawnspeaple start to turn against him.

One of the highlights of this productian was the "Grecian Urn" dance by several upstanding matrons.

Others in the cast were: Howard Whitaker, Harold Kretzer, Johnnie Atkinson, Randi Bryant, Susan Bailey, Curtis Bryant, John Spiaggi, Barbara Bastinelli, Paula Owens, and many others.

Cradock's production of "Music Man" was a thoroughly pleasurable and memorable experience.

Concerts And Assemblies Enliven The Year

Spring concerts presented by the band and chorus offered a wide variety of entertainment in the form of musical selections. Whether a stirring Spanish. march or a popular song from a hit Broadway musical, talent was evident.

The annual change of command within the S.C.A. took place in an assembly this year. The out-going officers looked a little sad, but they breathed a small sigh of relief as the eager new officers took over. It will be quite a challenge to top this year's record.

Billy Jones turn command of the ship over to Sam Jesselson.

Incoming officers are Francine Harmon, treasurer; Chris Grigas, Secretary; Paula Smith, Vice-President. The S.C.A. is being left in very capable hands.

It has became traditianal that, each year, each department in the schaal chaases the autstanding student in that field. Faur students are selected ta run and the winner is annaunced at the annual Literary Awards Assembly. This year Jimmy Layden distinguished himself by becaming the first student in the schaal's histary ta win the award in three different fields.

The winners are: (front) Evelyn Hamil, girls' physical educatian; Marsha Janes, business; Barbara Bastinelli, charus; Kay Orland, D.E.; Elizabeth Wright, sacial studies and English; (back) Jimmy Layden, industrial arts, science, and math; Jae Myers, bays' physical educatian; Billy Leary, art; Larry Burchett, I.C.T.; Nat Malcalm, band.

Literary Laurels

The original purpose of the Literary Awards Assembly was to recognize students who had won literary letters and stars. These monograms, similar to those awarded in athletics, are earned by activity in literary events such as forensics, dramatics, and publications, with points awarded for participation. Students with 25 points win letters and 15 additional points merit a star. This year's winners were (back) Nat Malcolm, Dottie Berck, Lindsey Alston, (front) Pam Honaker, Elizabeth Wright and Randi Bryant. Randi was also presented a dictionary for having accumulated a new record high point total of 119 points.

Perhaps the mast caveted awards presented at the Literary Awards Assembly are the acting awards. Each year the casts and stage and praductian crews af all the dramatic praductians vate by secret ballat far the best actar and actress and the best supparting actar and actress. The results af the voting shawed Jeep Whitaker, best supparting actar, Nat Malcalm, best actar, Sandy Nettles, best actress, and Randi Bryant, best supparting actress.

Are Awarded

Cradack has always been especially nated far its farensic activities, and this year praved to be na different. With the talent af the students and the enthusiasm af the English Department who caached them, Cradock had little difficulty in winning tap hanors. On the district level, we were represented by Kathy McCarmack in spelling, Pam Hanaker and Harald Kretzer in paetry reading, Carolyn Blaylack and Bruce Keatan in prase reading, and Randi Bryant and Neal Barnes in public speaking. At the district meet, Bruce Keatan and Caralyn Blaylock, pictured at right, wan first place ratings. Pam Hanaker taak a second place. Bruce and Caralyn, because they were bath first place winners, were allawed ta enter the campetitian an the state level where they braught even mare hanar to Cradack. Caralyn was judged the state's best girl prase reader and Bruce taak secand in bays' prase reading.

Cradock Honors Citizens Of Age And Youth

Some of Crodock's "pioneer citizens" ottend the special Crodock Doy assembly.

Cradock's S.C.A. has always been a strong advocate of citizenship in the community as well as in the school.

In an attempt to trace and compile a history of Cradock, a special S.C.A. committee searched records and documents. These efforts resulted in a very special assembly honoring Cradock as it stood fifty years ago and as it stands today. An impressive occasion, young and old citizens alike honored their community.

School citizenship is observed every year during a special week. During this Citizenship Week, the S.C.A. sponsors the election of the best citizen from each class. One of the highest honors paid a student, the presentation of the Best Citizen plaques remain a climactic highlight of every year.

Crodock's Best Citizens were: 8th grade, Addison Daniel; 9th grade, Nadine Browne; 10th grode, Paulo Smith; 11th grade, Cris Grigas; and 12th grode, Ronnie Conwoy.

Scouts Will Run To A Talented Team

Though winning only five of fifteen games, Cradock's team did not seem discouraged. The superb pitching and hitting of Leon Bell led the team well. Other senior members, as Novack and Dunlow served their final year in good form.

Perhaps the most astonishing aspect of this year's team is the promise that it suggests in the person of pitcher Tommy Dail and other underclassmen. Next year's team should draw scouts from all over the country to see a team and individuals scoring high!

Forecast Bright For Track

Cradock's track team is one of promise. Losing only two meets this year, the team seemed to show potential with its majority of strength coming from its junior members. Steve Rankin led the team in its strongest event, Distance. Other Distance men included Hare, Rasnake, Neely, Gibson, and Meeks.

Louis Edelstein, new to the team, trained in the Shot Put. Williams and Strickland also entered Shot Put competition. Jimmy Salas led in the Pole Vaulting event with Harry Edelstein as his apprentice. Top Hurdlers were all underclassmen, Bill Clark, Larry Howell, and Ronnie Davis.

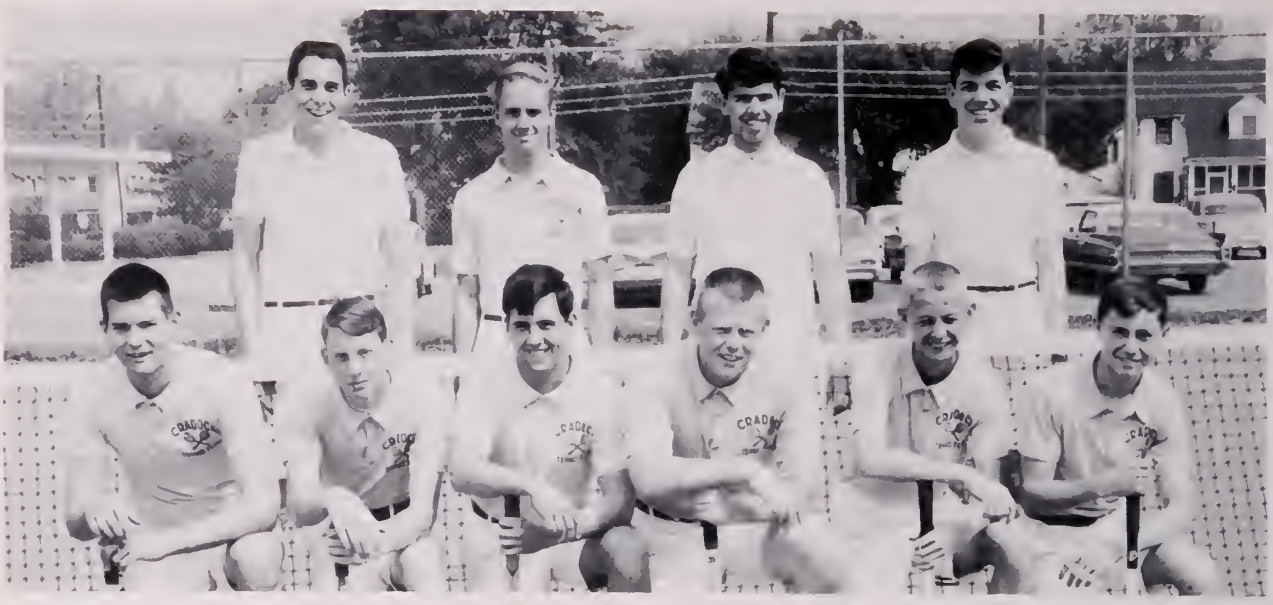

Next year's forecast is bright and sunny for spring track!

Tennis Team Shows Potential

Coach: Mr. Charles Wade

Captain: Joe Petrie

The Cradock Tennis team, coached by Mr. Charles P. Wade, was rebuilding this year after losing its top five players last year. Jimmy Whitener and Mike Revels were the only returning lettermen, and Joe Petrie, team captain, was the only Senior in the top six positions. David Kyle, Tom McCotter, and Rick Skelton were the other starters. They were backed up by Bob Gomer, Bobby Stinnett, and Jerry Warren. The team surprised everyone by winning two matches and concluding their season with a 2-7 record. Jimmy Whitener represented the team in the Eastern District Tennis Tournament, held at Williamsburg.

The Junior-Senior Showboat Proved Memorable

The music and dancing were grand, but so was the punch!

The Junior Class presented the Senior Class with a memorable gift, the prom "Showboat." The gymnasium on the night of May 14, 1965, was transformed into a Mississippi riverboat, complete with columns and a view of a riverbank dotted with plantations. Billy Morris and his orchestra played a variety of music. The Senior Class deeply appreciated the efforts of prom chairman, Chris Grigas, and her committee, who did such a commendable job.

Bath the Seniars and the Juniars will remember "Shawbaat" far a lang while.

The Seniors dedicoted their ossembly to their sponsor, Mrs. Adomson, who was presented o minioture French poodle.

The Seniors enter the gymnosium for their lost ossembly.

On Thursday, June 3, 1965, the Senior Class entered the gymnasium for the last time. This assembly was dedicated by the class to Mrs. Evelyn Byrd Adamson, the class sponsor. The program consisted of the presentation of the Class History, Class Poem, Last Will and Testament, Class Gift to the school, Class Song, and a special present to Mrs. Adamson. A reception for Mrs. Adamson, honored guests, and teachers was held after the assembly.

Seniors Hold A Special Assembly

After the ossembly, the Seniors left the school grounds for on impromptu parade around Crodock.

Mr. Booker greeted the delinquents ot the door.

Mr. Stricklond executes some foncy footwork to ovoid the flowless guording of Bill Hovens.

The student-faculty basketball game was held twice this year. At the first game both the boys and the girls lost to the male and female faculty members, respectively. The boys, who lost by a much, much smaller margin than the girls, requested a rematch. At the second game, the boys again lost, but the student body was proud that they had come so close to a win. The moral to the story is: It's not how you play the game, it's whether you win or lose!

What A Night When Teachers And Students Clash!

From the looks on some of these foces, the girls hod some onxious moments.

Most of the scenes took place in the home of Judge Turner ond the bobby-soxer. . . .

But some of the most interesting ones were stoged by Torzon (Billy Jones) ond Agnes (Ruth Liljegren) ot the Tick Tock Club.

Seniors Present

"The Bachelor And The Bobby-Soxer"

Mrs. Trudell ond Dottie Berck discuss some techniques with leads Dole Brinson ond Bruce Keoton.

The Senior Class play, "The Batchelor and the Bobby-Soxer," was presented on May 28 in the school auditorium.

The presentation represented the efforts of a cast full of only seniors, many of whom had no previous experience on the stage. A special effort was extended by Dottie Berck, student director, and Mrs. Trudell, faculty director.

A production of fun and laughs, "The Bachelor and the Bobby-Soxer" proved to be another "Cradock Great."

Everyone agreed that the faad at the Suburban Country Club was better than that in the school cafeteria!

The Senior Class Banquet took place on Tuesday, May 18, 1965, at the Suburban Country Club. At this dinner, the song, history, poem, and Last Will and Testament were presented to the Senior Class for the first time. The entire class seemed impressed with these items, which would be presented to the entire student body during the Senior Assembly.

Seniors Feast On Food For Body

The guests at the head table included Barbara Bastinelli, ca-author af the sang; Lindsey Alstan, lawyer; Harald Kretzer, paet; Elizabeth Wright, historian; The Reverend Carltan W. Lang; Mr. R. E. Byrd; Mr. A. J. Mapp; Mrs. J. J. Baaker, Jr.; and Mr. Baaker.

Others at the head table were Nat Malcalm, class president and ca-authar af the song; Mr. W. D. Graham, sponsar; Mrs. Evelyn B. Adamsan, spansar; Mrs. Rase E. Pollord, Guidance Directar; Billy Janes, S. C. A. president; Rannie Canway, vice-president; Kay Wiggs, secretary; Patsy Simmans, treasurer; and Dale Brinsan, banquet chairman.

. . . And Soul

The Reverend Owen Kelly, who gave the serman, was assisted by The Reverend Henry Faster.

As Baccalaureate was the first time gawns were warn, many seniars needed help.

On Sunday, June 6, 1965, the Reverend Owen Kelly, who once served as minister to the Cradock Methodist Church, returned to Cradock from Epworth Methodist Church in Norfolk to address the graduating seniors. In his address, he attempted to impress the class with the importance of combining compatibility and intelligence with emotion. This lesson, along with others he mentioned, were to help the class become better equipped to live in the future.

The Class Of 1965 Becomes Alumni

Commencement came for the class of 1965 on Thursday, June 10, 1965, in the Cradock High School Stadium. The feelings of the entire class can be found in an editorial of the June, 1965, edition of The Shipmate. It reads:

"A short five years ago, the class of 1965 entered Cradock High School; and in a few more days, all will have left. Graduation is an extremely joyous occasion but, at the same time, an extremely sad one. People who have known each other since the first years of grammar school will soon be departing—each going his own way.

The past five years have been important in molding the lives and character of each member of the class. These seniors have made a name for themselves — they have worked hard to be "somebody." And now, they must give up all this hard-earned "status"—underclassmen will take over their positions on publications, in forensics, in sports, in clubs, in Student Council, in music, and in dramatics. Next September the people in the class of '65 will be all but forgotten. And the class of 1966 will be on top, the leaders of the school.

Upon entering Cradock, the big thought is to hurry and graduate. Now the time is here, and most seniors are beginning to wish they had five more years in school to decide what they want to do upon graduating.

As we look back over the past five years, we remember all the fun, the tears, and the work that we've all shared. Each of us will take a part of Cradock High with us, and we hope that a part of us will always remain with Cradock."

ABOVE: The speakers at Commencement, Lindsey Alston, Dattie Berck, Randi Bryant, Elizabeth Wright, and Harald Kretzer talk to Nat Malcalm (on the telephone), who was unable to be a speaker because of illness.

We Love You, Evelyn

Miss Byrd

These words were found on the rafters at the old Cradock High School by Mrs. Adamson (then Miss Byrd) many years ago. She had been directing the Senior Class play and had become angry with the cast. She told them all to go home, learn their lines, and come back when they were ready for a rehearsal. Solemnly, the cast filed out of the auditorium. Mrs. Adamson proceeded to lock up and turn out the lights. When she left she found this phrase scrawled upon the rafters —WE LOVE YOU, EVELYN—

We, the Seniors of the new Cradock High School, would like to express these same sentiments to Mrs. Adamson, whose diligence in her work and devotion to our class have made her special in our hearts. Some of us shall remember her as a Sponsor, some as an advisor, some as a devoted teacher, some as a personal friend and some as a combination of these; all of us shall remember Evelyn Adamson.

Evelyn Adamson and Le Petit Admiral, a gift from the Senior Class, compliment each other as a new team.

We Close Our Scrapbook With A Final Salute

We raise our voices now to greet thee,
Our school, our Cradock High.
Many thoughts are ever with thee
To remain and never die.
Days of value always linger
In memories long gone by;
Our love for you grows ever deeper
As we strive for goals so high.

Once again we stop to greet thee,
March onward Cradock High.
It is to you we give the glory
Of all the things we try.
We count it gain that we have known thee,
And as the years go by,
Your spirit will remain within us,
Our unconquered Cradock High!
